

Seven English Girls

Ron Pope

well i m supposed to be studying for exams right now so i figured this would be the perfect time to dick around and write this out. the piano chords are posted on ron pope s myspace but this is just a really simple way of playing it on acoustic guitar, in a completely different key. i play it with a capo on the third fret for my voice.

intro: C G D Em

C G D G (i like to add my pinky to each chord so it kind of mimicks the piano version)

verse

C G D Em
i drove eleven hundred miles to find a photograph i d lost

C G D G
it s just a polaroid i used to keep of a girl that i once loved

C G D Em
and sleep, it leads to nightmares, as i never can forget

C G D G
so now i m dreaming of los angeles as the winter closes in

C G D G
said i m dreaming of los angeles as the winter closes in play intro chords

C G D Em
and we met seven english girls who asked if we d like to see God

C G D G
and i m not one for missed adventures, so i answered with a smile

C G D Em
we spent the night on razor s edge, all innocence and sin

C G D G
and now i m strung out on the bowery as the winter closes in

now i m strung out on the bowery as the winter closes in
