

Loch Lomond
Runrig

[Verse]

G                    Em                    C                    D
By yon bonnie banks, and by yon bonnie braes
G                                    Em                                    C                    D
Where the sun shines bright on Loch Lo-mond
G                                    Em                                    C                                    D
There me and my true love spent many happy days
G                                    C                                    D                    G
On the bonnie, bonnie banks o Loch Lo-mond.

[Chorus]

G                                    Em                                    C                                    D
Oh, ye ll tak the high road, and I ll tak the low road
G                                    Em                                    C                                    D
And I ll be in Scotland before ye
G                                    Em                                    C                                    D
But me and my true love will never meet again
G                                    C                                    D                    G
On the bonnie, bonnie banks o Loch Lo-mond.

[Verse]

G                                    Em                                    C                                    D
Twas there that we parted in yon shady glen,
G                                    Em                                    C                                    D
On the steep, steep side o Ben Lomon ,
G                                    Em                                    C                                    D
Where in purple hue the Hieland hills we view,
G                                    C                                    D                    G
An the moon comin out in the gloamin .

[Chorus]

G                                    Em                                    C                                    D
Oh, ye ll tak the high road, and I ll tak the low road
G                                    Em                                    C                                    D
And I ll be in Scotland before ye
G                                    Em                                    C                                    D
But me and my true love will never meet again
G                                    C                                    D                    G
On the bonnie, bonnie banks o Loch Lo-mond.

[Verse]

G                    Em                    C                    D
The wee birdies sing and the wild flow'rs spring,
G                    Em                    C                    D
And in sunshine the waters are sleepin' ;
G                    Em                    C                    D
But the broken heart it kens nae second spring,
G                                    C                                    D G
Tho' the waefu' may cease frae their greetin'

[Chorus]

G                    Em                                    C                                    D
Oh, ye'll tak' the high road, and I'll tak' the low road
G                    Em                    C                    D
And I'll be in Scotland before ye
G                    Em                                    C                                    D
But me and my true love will never meet again
G                                    C                                    D G
On the bonnie, bonnie banks o' Loch Lomond.
