

Maybe You Can Save Me From You
Sacha Sacket

this is my first tab..hope you enjoy...
i use a capo on the third fret to fit my voice..

D                    A
Sometimes I lie awake
Em                                    G
Dreaming of you, forming your taste.
D                                    A
The moonlight swears you love me
Em                                    G
But the sunrise takes it away.
D                                    A
Could you whisper my name?
Em                                    G
Under your breath could it sound the same?
D                                    A
Cause I ve been stuck in replay,
Em                                    G
This light by my bed s been burning for days

(chorus)

D            A            Em
Maybe yooooou can save me (from you)

-(rest of the song is played the same way)-

I know I play the fool,
The way that I look must embarass you.
I can t keep the stars from the sky,
The way that my truths in love with the lie

Should I try and forget how the wisps
Of your hair get stuck in your mouth?
How could I when I ve had your stare,
This trail of regret leading nowhere?

Maybe you can save me (from you)
Tell me you could love me too
