

Castles

Sandi Thom

key: E

E

I m just skimming stones against the lake

Cm

Bb

While my dreams pass me by

E

Cause I ve nev-er known what to make of life

C#m

B

But I guess I m willing to try

A

E

Sometimes it s better and sometimes it s worse

A

B

And sometimes it heals and sometimes it hurts....

E

A

E

A

So hail to the morn-ing wher-ev-er it dawns down on me

C#m

A

It s now that I get to thinking

F#m

B6

B

E

Some castles lie way be-neath the sea.

C#m

B

You always said that it would be... such a long summer

E

C#m

B

And now its here and I can break the earth on this cold water

A

E

Sometimes it s better and sometimes it s worse

A

B

And sometimes it heals and sometimes it hurts....

E

A

E

A

So hail to the morn-ing wher-ev-er it dawns down on me

C#m

A

It s now that I get to thinking

F#m

B6

B

D

A

C#m

B

D

A

C#m

B

Some castles lie way be-neath the sea.

E

A

E

A

So hail to the morning wherever it dawns down on me

C#m

Am

F#m7

B

It s now that I get to thinking that life s a mystery

E

A

E

A

So long live the moonlight wherever it dawns down on me

C#m

A

With the strength to part the ocean

F#m7

B

E (fade out)

I ll find my castle lies way beneath the sea