Here goes nothing. I never use tab, and this is my first Tab post, so feel free to edit/add/delete. This is not the way Sarah does it. She has her Capo on the fifth fret I think, this is done with a capo on first fret, general tuning.

(You ll have to listen to the song in order to figure out how to pick it.)

Or at least that s what it s supposed to be.

All this was done by ear so i might have gotten stuff wrong.

All chords are still picked the same way the intro is.

I guess you have to listen to the song a couple of times
