I m not too sure about the lyrics to this one,
hell I m not even sure about the chords.

I couldn t quite figure out the second part of the solo, and after the chorus, the chords are all the same.

This is my first tab, be forgiving, and I hope this is accurate enough.

Standard Tuning.

Dadd9, F#m, G

Dadd9                    F#m                    G
There s a girl, asleep in her work clothes there s the dream of a grave dusty birds, a loft in a twister
A                    G                    Em                    G
and the money, she ll never have

Dadd9, F#m, G

Dadd9                    F#m                    G
Cigarette still burns in her fingers and her TV s alive
there s broken homes, and weight loss, and lawyers
A                    G                    Em                    G                    Bm
and the money she ll never have

Dadd9                    Em                    G                    Bm
Deliver the stars from the ceiling
                  Dadd9                    Em                    Bm
the nights from her head
Dadd9                    Em                    G
Deliver the stars from the ceiling
and the money she ll never have

Lately sleep, it goes like a weekend full of plans never saved the sun deflates behind the Sangre de Cristo
and the money she ll never have

Deliver the stars from the ceiling
the nights from her head
Deliver the stars from the ceiling
and the money she ll never have
