[Intro]

C repeated

[Verse 1]

C            C2                            F                            G                            C
I m a honeybee, breaking your heart, broke mine enough to kill me.

C            C2                            F                            G                            C
I let you feel my sting before my last bittersweet moments of flying.

C            C2                            F                            G                            C
I thought I heard you say something about being undeserving,

C            C2                            F                            G                            F
but this time not of a Love so great, but of a pain inflicted so selfishly.

[Chorus 1]

F                            G                            C                            Em Am
I think that you deserve some form of apology.

F                            G                            C                            Em Am
So here I am, and here it is. I m sorry.

[Verse 2]

C            C2                            F                            G                            C
You were the balloon that drifted from the flock into my window.

C            C2                            F    G    C
But you slipped right through my fingers that grew too tiresome to hold you.

C                            C2    F    G    C
I watched you float away, watched as it turned into desperate longing.

C                            C2    F    G
F
This time not for some drastic change, but for the string that was made to be held by me.

[Chorus 2]

F    G    C    Em Am
I think that you deserve some form of apology.
F    G    C    Em Am
So here I am, once again, I m sorry.

[Interlude]

F, G, C, Em, Am, F...

[Bridge]

F    G
I don t even want you back.
C    Em    Am
No, I would never want to risk something like that.

F    G
Cause I lost faith in myself,
C    Em    Am

when I turned away from the one with the longest stretch of embracing arms to hold me.

F    G
So now I m all alone.
C    Em    Am
I guess God grew too tired to fix the mistakes he made with Love.

F    G    F
I think his biggest mistake was making me.

[Chorus 3]

F    G    C    Em Am
I think that you deserve some form of apology.
F    G    C
So here I am, at the end, I m sorry.
