

Its A Long Long Way
Seasick Steve

Okay I listened to the song and found the chords in a half hour, its tricky but I feel its definately the right chords.

The Song is played with a capo on the first fret and all the chords mentioned are correspondant to that. Example: F# becomes G, G becomes G# etc.

Verse:

E

Its a long long way cause ive been there before

B7

Its a long long way cause ive been there before

E

You probably wont take some advice from me

A

E

I never took none my---self, ye see

E

Its just that when you get older, ye like to pass some on

B7

E

But nobodys list--ening

Chorus :

F

Its a long long way cause ive been there before

B7

Its a long long way cause ive been there before

This is the chord structure for the whole song, i aint got the solo, i think its a little arpeggio around the above E chord.
