Half Alive
Secondhand Serenade

so far no tab has been right, yes the chords are D, Bm, A & G, but what no one has realised is that the guitar is tuned down 2 steps, so the D chord now becomes an E
chord, the Bm is C#, A is a B & the G is an A. played like this...

```
              E   C# B   A
e down to D   0   0  0   0
B down to A   0   0  0   0
G down to F   9   6  4   2
D down to C   9   6  4   2
A down to G   7   4  2   0
E down to D   0   x  x   x

i know it sucks to untune your guitar but if u wanna play it right then thats how its done.
& im only doing the chords, not the picking. im 100% sure that they are the right chords, im not 100% sure if ive put them all in the right places.. so play along with the song then you ll know if im right.
thankyou

Verse 1:
```
      E                        C#
It s four AM, I m waking up to your perfume
                    B
Don t get up, I ll get through on my own
    A
I don t know if I m home
         E
Or if I lost the way into your room
      C#
I m spiraling into my doom
      B                        A
I m feeling half alive but I know one day
                 B
You and I will be free,
     C#
To live and die by our own rules,
 E
Free..
Despite the fact that men are fools.
```

Chorus:
```
 E           A                       C#
I m almost alive, and I need you to try
      B
And save me.
       E              A
It s okay that we re dying,
               C#        B        A
But I need to survive tonight, tonight.
```

Verse 2:

E-C#-B-A

```
        E
Well excuse me while I get killed softly,
 C#                               B
Heart slows down and I can hardly tell you I m okay
    A
At least  til yesterday,
              E
You know you caught me off my highest guard,
   C#
Believe me when I say it s hard.
       B
We ll get through this tonight
            A                         B
And I know one day you and I will be free
     C#
   E
Free..
   A
Despite the fact that men are fools.
```

Chorus:
```
 E           A                     C#
I m almost alive, and I need you to try
      B
And save me.
       E              A
It s okay that we re dying,
               C#        B        A
But I need to survive tonight, tonight.
```

Bridge:
```
B                              C#
And you touch my hand ever so slightly
Girl we re not ready for this yet
B                              A
And the deadly look she cast upon me
I won t regret, I won t regret
```

```
   B         C#       B         A
I won t regret. I won t regret...

                E                 B
And I was trying to disappear,
                              A
But you got me wrapped around you
I can hardly breathe without you
          E             B
I was trying to disappear
                         A
But I got lost in your eyes now,
You brought me down to size now.

Chorus: 1 strum
 E          A                     C#
I m almost alive, and I need you to try
      B
And save me.
         E             A
It s okay that we re dying,
                C#      B       A
But I need to survive tonight, tonight.

Chorus: strumming
 E          A                     C#
I m almost alive, and I need you to try
      B
And save me.
         E                  A
It s okay that we re dying,
                C#      B       A
But I need to survive tonight, tonight.
            C#      B       A
I need to survive tonight, tonight

Ends on E i hope this has helped, as far as i know this is the only right tab for this song so comment if you think its right please. thankyou.
