

Fine Again Live Acoustic Seether

i will not take no credit for this tab. i simply watched the video of the unplugged session. i just figured since i have a really hard time finding how songs are played the right way that i would share it with the rest of the users.

the frist thing you will notice is that the chords are close together this isnt a mistake he just switches chords fast during the song when he drags out some of the lyrics. so just listen to the song and the timing will come. just remember to strum the D before line changes cus it segments the lyrics.
me on this.

tuning half step down

I feel the dream in me expire
 And there s no one left to blame it on I hear you label me a liar
 Cause I can t seem to get this through
 You say it s over, I can sigh again
 Yeah
 Why try to stay sober when I m dying here?

And I am aware now
 Of how everything s gonna be fine
 One day, too late, I m in Hell
 I am prepared now
 Seems everyone s gonna be fine
 One day, too late, just as well.

I am aware now
 Of how everything s gonna be fine
 One day, too late, I m in Hell
 I am prepared now
 Seems everyone s gonna be fine
 One day, too late, just as well.
