

So Long Sunshine
September Vacancy

This is my first contribution to UG, hope you enjoy.
Tuning: Standard, capo 2

Verse 1

G When all is said and done, is harder than it sounds Gsus
Em7 Cus saying s only half of it, the rest is rarely found Em
C And doing is what life s about, but life is not your friend
Am When you ve sucked the marrow out of life, your bones no longer bend

Chorus 1

G So long sunshine, our days are winding down
Em And all life s dazzling colors, simply can t be found
C My sunshine s always been there, to help me through the night
Am And chase away the demons, with her sparkling light

Verse 2

G What goes up must come down, I ve proved it once again
Em I m hoping when it does this time, it ll fall into my hand
C Cus when i miss that subtle sign, and it falls towards the ground
Am It shatters when it hits the floor, but I never hear a sound
G And when you left i kicked myself, for letting you get away
Em And as bad as I wanted to track you down, I forced myself to stay
C Because I never did deserve you, and you never needed me
Am So I let you drive away because without me you ll be free

Chorus 2

G So long sunshine, my day is winding down
Em And all life s dazzling colors, are nowhere to be found

C

My sunshine was always here with me, to keep me warm throughout the night

Am

But now she's not, and all alone, my heart has turned to ice

Verse 3

G

And all that I can say to you, is I'm glad you finally left

Em

Because if you had stayed here, I'd have taken your last breath

C

But your leaving drove me into, depression of greater depths

Am

And sadly I have made the choice, to hurry the gift of death

Chorus 3

G

So long sunshine, my day is at an end

Em

Twists of fate, like to break my story's at it's end

C

When Black and white blur to grey, it's not a pretty sight

Am

Don't let your sunshine get away, your sunshine's worth your life.
