* Use a hammer-on when playing the A-chord at the beginning of the verses. Just play the G-note and lead it right into the A-chord.

Verse: 0:00- 0:26

A***
So you re sticky and you re young and your head is like a sponge
A***
Got to keep yourself, keep you from becoming one
F#
Get up off of your knees!
A***
You feel a tick in your stomach and it s eating towards your heart
A***
A subtle, constant shiver from the bottom to the top
F#
Get up off of your knees!

Chorus: 0:27- 0:35

D
Someone needs to be anthem for the end of suffering...

Verse: 0:36- 0:48

A***
As revealed in the end there are parallels in life
A***
If there s fission in the bomb then there s fission in your mind
F#

Don t melt down on me!

Chorus: 0:49- 1:10

D

Someone needs to be an anthem for the end of suffering...

A F#

Hang on to me

D

Don t disintegrate as you re discovering

Verse: 1:11- 1:24

A***

There s a man in a dream doing laps around a lake

A***

busy talking to himself living dying just the same

F#

Don t think he was me!

Chorus: 1:25- 2:00

D

cause I believe the middle takes the man out to the edge and

A F#

then I don t want to wait

D

yeah I can be a wall around you, any covering I ll find you

A F#

Hang on to me

D

Someone needs to be an anthem for the end of suffering

Verse: 2:01- 2:14

A***

Paint the caves of your existence with the colors of your mind

A***

find a color for commitment, one that satisfies

F#

sounds easy to me!

Chorus: 2:15- end

D

Yeah I can be a wall around you, any covering I ll find you

A F#

Hang on to me

D

Don't disintegrate while you're discovering

A F#

Hang on to me

D

Someone needs to be an anthem for the end of suffering
