Shawn Colvin            Heart On Ice    written    by Judith Zweiman
Lucy Kaplanski

          Bm            A            Bm A
As    I sit in the all night diner
          Bm            A        Bm A
You return to your easy chair
          Bm            A            Bm A
You awake to your work and your woman
          Bm            A            Gmaj 7
And I ll dream that it s me lying there
          Bm            A            Bm A
You can look in my eyes but you ll never know
          Bm            A            Bm A
There s an ache inside that I never show
          Gmaj 7
A defensive device
          A            Bm A    Bm A
Meant to keep my heart on ice
          Bm            A            Bm A Bm            A        Bm A
I keep my heart on ice I chill my holy soul
          Bm            A            Bm
I shield my fragile eggshell love
          Gmaj 7            A
>From attack during the groundswell
          Bm            A            Bm A        Bm            A            Bm A
I ll act the part so well I ll play my finest role
          Bm            A            Bm
But the furies take their toll and their price
          Gmaj 7            Bm A    Bm A
Is to keep my heart on ice
          Bm            A            Bm A
As    I sit in the all night diner
          Bm            A            Bm A
You leaned back in your nightclub seat
          Bm            A            Bm A

I went out with two friends and a stranger
       Bm                A                Gmaj 7
 With a laugh and a pang of defeat
       Bm                A                Bm                A    Bm
 But I looked in your eyes as I turned to go
       Bm                A                Bm
 Was there something there that you couldn't show
       Gmaj 7
 A defensive device
       Bm                A                Bm
 Meant to keep your heart of ice
       Bm                A                Bm A    Bm                A                Bm A
 You keep your heart on ice you chill your holy soul
       Bm                A                Bm
 You shield your fragile eggshell love
       Gmaj 7                A
 >From attack during the groundswell
       Bm                A                Bm                A                Bm                A                Bm                A
 You act the part so well you'll play your finest role
       Bm                A                Bm
 But the furies take their toll and their price
       Gmaj 7                Bm A    Bm A
 Is to keep my heart on ice
       Bm                A                Bm A
 As I sit in the all night diner
       Bm                A                Bm A
 I was thinking of you at the bar
       Bm                A                Bm A
 And the smiles and the jests and the whispers
       Bm                Gmaj 7
 As I watched once again from afar
       Bm                A                Bm A
 But I looked in your eyes and I never knew
       Bm                A                Bm A
 Did I read you wrong did I misconstrue
       Gmaj 7                Bm
 The defensive device I will keep my heart on ice
       Bm                A                Bm A Bm                A                Bm A
 I keep my heart on ice I chill my holy soul
       Bm                A                Bm
 I shield my fragile eggshell love
       Gmaj 7                A
 >From attack during the groundswell
       Bm                A                Bm A    Bm                A                Bm A
 I'll act the part so well I'll play my finest role
       Bm                A                Bm
 But the furies take their toll and their price
       Gmaj 7                Bm A    Bm A
 Is to keep my heart on ice
