

I'll Say I'm Sorry Now
Shawn Colvin

G          C
I m gonna let you down
          D          G
I know that now
                  G          C          D
Make you cry, I know I will
                          Em          C
And why should you believe
                  D          G
I would never leave
          Am                          C
Or that I love you still

G          C
For all that I am by
          D          G
And hard as we try
                  Em
The bough breaks
                  C
The cradle falls
                  G          C
For everything I do
                  D          Em
That will tear at you
          Am          D          G
Let me say I m sorry now

Em          C
So you can sing your song
          D          G
You can get it wrong
          Em          C          D
You can kiss the rock of ages
          G          C
In your wildest dreams
          D          Am
You might see between
          C          Em          D
The liars and the sages
          Em          G

You can walk awhile
          D          Am
Down the mystery mile
          Em          C          D
You can beat the drums of freedom

G            C
In love and war

D            Am
Through the rush and roar

C            Em            D
You just call em like you see em
