note: play (C#m C#sus2 C#m C#sus2) at the * symbol intro: F Bb (play several times)

E            A            E            A            *
down at the train they go to independence every day
E            A            E            A            *
but everyone else now seems a like a million miles away
                 E            C#m            E            F#
and i must have been high to beleive that i would ever leave
                 A    E    B                   E            A    E    A
now i m just a flat fine line like the witchita skyline
E            A            E            A            *
i rode the airstream across the great lonesome afternoon
                 E            A            E            A            *
and i wished hard enough, drove fast enough to catch the moon
                 E            C#m
but i must ve been dreaming again
                 E            F#
cause there s nothing around the bend
                 A    E    B                   E            A    E    A
except for that fine flat line the witchita skyline

F Bb (3x) solo play chords (G# G#-A#-G#)

       E                    A
 i m searching the dial
           E                    A                    *
 while i m scanning the sky for a patch of blue
                   E                                    C#m E                                    F#
 and i watch the black clouds rool in chasing me back again
                   A    E    B                                    E                    A back to the flat fine line the witchita skyline
                   E                    A
 the witchita skyline
                   E                    A    (slide to) C B A G E_____ (to end)
