Two packs of cigarettes a day The strongest whiskey Kentucky can make

That s the recipe to put a vagabond on his hands and knees

Em

I watched it all up close I knew it more than most

G

I saw a side of him I could never show

for the sympathy for a world that wouldn t let him be

Em

G

That s the man he was Have you heard enough?

Em

What a shame What a shame to judge a life that you can t change

The choir sings the church bells ring so won t you give this man his wings

Em

what a shame to have to beg you to see we re not all the same

Em

What a shame

remainder of song follows same pattern!! My first tab so enjoy!!

There s a hard life for every silver spoon there s a touch of grey for every shade of blue

That s the way that I see life if there was nothing wrong then there d be nothing right

and for this working man they said could barely stand there s got to be a better place to land

some kind of remedy for a world that wouldn t let him be

God forgive the hands that laid you down

They never knew how, but your broken

Heart can break the sound

And change the season

Now the leaves are falling faster, Happily ever after
You gave me hope through your endeavors
And now you will live forever
