

116Th

Shoshana Bean

This is one special and incredibly beautiful song, by the all so very talented Shoshana Bean.

I m not 100% sure about the chords at the beginning, but the ending is supposed to be better.

Db Ab Db
You wouldn t believe how things have changed,

F# Db Ab
Hardly anything looks the same.

Abm Db F#
It used to be a quiet street, now people pass on hurried feet.

Db Ab F# Ab Db
You wouldn t believe how things have changed on 116th.

Db Ab Db
It was the place where love began,
F# Db Ab
Where you and I walked hand in hand.

Abm Db F#
On a summer night in late July, I sang to you a lullaby.

Db Ab F# Ab Db
Not everything ends the way you planned on 116th.

Bm D
All we had was a little apartment,
Bm D
A mattress on the floor where we slept.
G D
We lived small but we dreamed big,
G A A7
And love was growing where we lay...

D A Bm
Back then I could only think of now, Yeah,

Em D A
But now I look back and wonder how.

Am D
How could I have wished away the time,

G Gm
When life was simple and you were mine.

D A G A
I d give all that I have to have just one more day,

Am D
In your arms to feel you hold me tight,

G A D

To sleep upon your chest that night,

G A Am B
I wanna go back, I d give anything to go back.

G A
I wanna go back to 116th.
