Captains

Show of Hands

This is in the key of the original track; however I prefer playing/singing it in the key of C.

Verse

E B C#sus2 E

High above the Earth, hours before we land

E B C#sus2 E

Morning slowly breaks and dawn's lifting

E B C#sus2

The only one awake, so gently in my hands

E B C#sus2 E

I trace a hundred lives, through darkness drifting

Chorus

Esus2 F#m Asus2

I will bring you back, I will hold you

Esus2 F#m Asus2 B F#

My arms are strong, they will enfold you

(Continue chords from first verse and chorus)

Verse

Far out at sea, a hundred miles from shore
A storm begins to rise and the tide's turning
Driving wind and rain, to try my skills once more
Testing yet again, all my craft and learning

Chorus

All my love to calmer seas, I will steer you And you'll be safe, when I am near you

Bridge

G#m

For we search on every side, for a compass and a guide,

B F#

Someone with the atlas and the charts

E B F# E

Oh we say please be the captain of my heart

F# E C#sus2 E

My heart

Verse (same chords as before)

We turn away from town, and steer towards the west The rain beats on the roofs, as the Sun is setting Chorus

Esus2 F#m Asus2

You close your eyes and see youâ \in mre sleeping

Esus2 F#m Asus2

And as you dream you're in my keeping

Esus2 F#m Asus2

At last when you wake and look around you

Esus2 F#m Asus2 B F#

I have brought you back and I have found you
