Lyrics

I like the way you look at me every time, you first come into my mind
I like the way you fit perfectly, on my side
I like the way you hold my hand, and bury your head in my chest
Every time youâ€™re tired, every time you want to rest
I like the way your face looks when you sleep, I like your legs crossed over me
I like the way you always want me to win, I like how you touch my skin

I like you . . . you . . . oh I like you . . . how else do I tell you

I like the way you always ask for another song, and how we always get along
I like how you dress for me, I wish you could see what I see I like how youâ€™re slow to get into the pool, oh how I like to hold you when you do
I like the way you smile at me, I wish the whole world could see

I like you . . . you . . . oh I like you . . . how else can I tell you

I like you . . . you . . . oh I like you . . . how else do I tell you
I like you . . . you . . . oh I like you . . . how else do I tell you

I like when you walk into a room, I like how people look at you
I like you in your ski clothes and warm hat, I like how you talk in your accent
I like how you dance with me, I like how you like family
I like how you inspire me, I like you so much canâ€™t you see Canâ€™t you see . . . canâ€™t you see . . . canâ€™t you see
I like you . . . canâ€™t you see . . . canâ€™t you see
