Tabbed by: Isaias Garcia (TexasFury)

Tuning: Standard

VERSE 1
F#
You re the dark to light
B/F#
you re never satisfied
G#/F#   B/F#
you only know the things that will fail to be.
F#
A pessimistic one
B/F#
who sees the end to come
B/F#   B/F#
where every joy is lost to a tragedy.

     F#   B/F#
And still you wonder why you cannot
G#/F#   B/F#
find your peace today.
F#
Cause you were meant to live
B/F#
so much more than this
G#/F#   B/F#
now if only you could see.

CHORUS 1
             D/A   A5
You could be standing out the sun still
                      B5
the rain s coming down
               F#
rain s coming down.
             D/A
There ain t a cloud in sight
              A5   B5
still your heart beats cold and grey

```
             F3
every day.

VERSE 2
F#
You know it brings me down
B/F#
the way you drag around
G#/F#                              B/F#
your heavy heart just like a stone.
F#
Well keep your misery
B/F#
don t put it all on me
G#/F#                           B/F#
cause I ve got problems of my own.

CHORUS 2
             D/A                    A5
You could be standing out in the sun
                         B5
still the rain s coming down
                  F#
rain s coming down.
             D/A                     A          B5
So keep your cloud of darkness and doom off my parade
          F3
yeah today.

BRIDGE
B5
And if I go you know I set off a spark
         A5
I would burn it out, I would burn it all away.
B5
If you re a fire jaded cold calloused heart
    NC
someday, I ll find a way.

(guitar solo)

CHORUS 3
             D/A                  A5
You could be standing out the sun
                         B5
still the rain s coming down
                 F#
rain s coming down.
```

```
          D/A
There ain t a cloud in sight
          A5                         B5
still your heart beats cold and grey
          F3
every day.

          D/A                         A5
You could be standing out in the sun
                          B5
still the rain s coming down
                  F#
rain s coming down.
              D/A
Someday I ll steal the spark
      A5                    B5
I will burn your cloud away
                  F#
I ll find a way.
