Back to the moment
Slash's Snakepit

C                                                    F
You say you don t wanna go but you ve got to understand
           Bb            C
That you re so far away from me and I m all alone
              F
Even when you re standing next to me
              Bb
Deep inside, I feel you want to go free

Am     B   C   F
I wanted you eternally
Am     B   C   F                     G
I see the truth, now that you ve lied to me

G
Can t you see that the
C                 Bb
pain breaks me in two
            F
It takes me from you
          G#
I feel it stop my beating heart, with every little thing you do
C                 Bb                            F
It tears me apart, please make it stop and be mine again
          G#                        Bb
So we can take it right back to the moment
Where we start

F        G#
              And baby,
C
you say you already know
               F
But you won t ever understand
          Bb                        C
What it s like to feel you slippin  away from me

I m down on my knees
             F
Even though I tried to carry on
         Bb
Deep inside, I feel like I m the only one

Am  B  C  F            Am  B  C   F
I wanted you eternally, but I see the truth

                    G
Now that you ve lied to me, Oh and you lie to me

Can t you see that the
C                   Bb
pain breaks me in two
                       F
It takes me from you
               G#
I feel it stop my beating heart, with every little thing you do
C               Bb                                      F
It tears me apart, baby please make it stop and be mine again

So we can take it right back to the moment Where we start

 G#                    Bb
I feel like you re taking away
My everything, my everything
 G#                                 Bb
 Cause everything you say and do
It s like your playing a part
         G#
When the curtain finally closes
         Bb
I wonder if you re going to take a bow
                       C                   G
Before you break my heart, before you break my heart

LEAD SOLO

C / C / F / Bb
C / C / F / Bb
Am / B C / F / F
Am / B C / F / F
Am / B C / F / F

G
Now listen to me
                         C                   Bb
Can t you see that the pain breaks me in two
                 F
It takes me from you
               G#
I feel it stop my beating heart, with every little thing you do
C               Bb                                  F
It tears me apart, please make it stop and be mine again
                     G#
So we can take it right back to the moment
