

East
Sleeping at Last

I originally learned this song by ear on piano and, while at school, i decided i wanted to transpose it into a guitar tab because it hadnt been done yet. (this is also my first tab, so leave plenty of reviews)

1. I set out to rule the world
2. no mountain dared stand in my way
3. The tide is brave but always retreats
4. my kingdom towers above it all

1. and a wooden sword
2. in my wake
3. under my feet
4. in my cardboard walls

[Chorus]

G                    Am                    Em                    F
 Now I bear little resemblance to the king I once was
G                    Am                    Em                    F
 I bear little resemblance to the king I could become
G                    Am                    Em
 Maybe paper is paper, maybe kids will be kids-
G                    Am                    Em                    F
 Lord, I want to remember how to feel like I did
