[Primeira Parte]

It ain t no joke, I d like to buy the world a toke
And teach the world to sing in perfect harmony
And teach the world to snuff the fires and the liars
Hey, I know it s just a song but it s the spice for recipe

This is a love attack, I know, it went out but it s back
It s just like any fad, it retracts before impact
And just like fashion, it s a passion for the with it and the hip if ya got the goods, they ll come and buy it just to stay in the clique

[Refrão]

So don t delay, act now, supplies are running out
Allow if you re still alive, six to eight years to arrive
And if you follow there maybe a tomorrow
But if the offer is shun, you might as well be walkin on the sun

[Segunda Parte]

Twenty-five years ago they spoke out and they broke out
Of recession and oppression and together they toked
And they folked out on guitars around a bonfire
Just singin and clappin man what the hell happened?

Then some were spellbound, some were hellbound
Some they fell down and some got back up and Fought back against the melt down
And their kids are hippie chicks all hypocrites
Because fashion is smashin the true meaning of it

[Terceira Parte]

It ain t no joke when mama s handkerchief is soaked
With her tears because her baby s life has been revoked
The bond is broke up so choke up and focus on the close up
Mr. Wizard can t perform no God-like hocus-pocus

So don t just sit back, kick back and watch the world get bushwacked
News at 10:00 your neighborhood is under attack
Put away the crack before the crack puts you away
You need to be there when your baby is old enough to relate
