Gsus4 F
Two weeks later like a surplus reprieve

Gsus4 F
I found a hair the length of yours on my sleeve

Gsus4 F
I wound it round and round my finger so tight

Gsus4 F
It turned to purple and a pulse formed inside

C

Gsus4 F
And I knew the beat cause it matched your own beat

Gsus4 F
I still remember it from our chest to chest and feet to feet

Gsus4 F
The easy silence then was a sweet relief to this hush

Gsus4 F
Of ovens, airplanes and of distant car points

Chorus:

C Gsus4 F
A fire a fire, you can only take what you can carry

C Gsus4 F
A pulse, you re pulse, it s the only thing I can remember

C Gsus4 F
I break, you don t, I was always set to self-destruct, though

C Gsus4 F
The fire, the fire, it cracks and the barks like primal music

Gsus4 F
I said I knew the beat cause it matched your own beat

Gsus4 F
It s become my engine my own source of heat

Gsus4 F
The sea between only amplifies the sound waves

Gsus4 F
And every hum and echo and crash paints my cave
