

Absent From Flesh Sojourn

I'm 99.9% certain that these chords are correct. Quite frankly, I can't figure out the actual tab, so I just play these chords. I couldn't find this song on this site, so I figured I'd post it myself. It's my first one, so let's hope it's right!

Capo 2

B                    Bsus2       D               E
Absent from flesh, O blissful thought

A               E               B
What joy that moment brings

B                    Bsus2       D               E
Freed from the blame my sin has brought,

A               E                               B-Bsus2
From pain and death and its sting.

B                    Bsus2       D               E
Absent from flesh, O glorious day!

A               E               B
In one triumphant stroke

B                    Bsus2       D               E
My reckoning paid, my charges dropped,

A                               E                               B-Bsus2
And the bonds round my hands are broke.

A               E               B
I go where God and glory shine,

A               E               B
To one eternal day

A               E               B
And this failing body I now resign,

A               E               B
For the Angels point my way

A               E               B
For the Angels point my way

B                    Bsus2       D               E
Absent from flesh! Then rise, my soul,

A               E               B
Where feet nor wings could climb,

B                    Bsus2       D               E
Beyond the sky, where planets roll,

A               E               B
And beyond all keep of time.

A               E               B

I go where God and glory shine,

A       E       B

To one eternal day

A       E       B

And this failing body I now resign,

A       E       B

For the Angels point my way

A       E       B

For the Angels point my way
