

Some Constellation

Someone Still Loves You Boris Yeltsin

This is my second tab and I think that everything is correct except for the exact placement of the chords in the lyrics. Although, I think it s almost in the right position and is very much playable. Hope you guys like it! Comment for any suggestions, corrections, or request for tabs.

Intro: F# - Abm - B

F#
Birds on the pillow
Abm
And paper lanterns hangin
B
from the ceiling
F#
Sticky stars aglow
Abm B
Mappin out some constellation
F#
I m tired of standing in the light
Abm B
outside her window
F# Abm
For her I would row to the ends
B
of my imagination.

F#
Pleasure to behold
Abm
A silhouette so real yet
B oh so static
F#
Measured and controlled
Abm
Lets down her hair, takes off
B
her army jacket
F#
I m tryin to figure out what s
Abm B
right - do I stay or go?
F#

For all she doesn't know

Abm

B

Coz she wish that she still had it