Runaway
Something Corporate

alright i think this is fairly accurate... at least the progression if not the key
standard tuning

(for verses strum each chord once and let resonate)

```
B                   D
if you ran to the end of the earth
        G                         E
i would catch you and you would be safe
B                 D
if you fell down a well
                    G                         E
i would bring you a rope and take all of the pain

         G
all the pain
         D/F# (i think...?)
all the pain
           E
that you hide from me every day

B         D             A     B
if you re missing i will run away
      B      D      A    B
i will build a path to you
B         D             A     B
if you re missing i will run away
       B      D      A    B
cuz i find myself in you

B                 D
if i woke up alone
                   G
i won t stop til i find you
                  E
and you are with me
B                     D
cuz by now i know you better than you know yourself
   G                     E
and i know what you really need

          G
what you need
      D/F#
or i need
```

but either way this is where you should be G
here with me
          D/F#
or i ll bleed
E
so much that you won t believe

B         D                A       B
if you re missing i will run away
        B        D       A   B
i will build a path to you
B         D                A       B
if you re missing i will run away
        B        D       A   B
cuz i find myself in you

G
you better not
A                     B B B B
you better not run
G
you better not
A                     B B B B     G    A
you better not run

B         D                A      B
if you re missing i will run away
        B        D       A   B
i will build a path to you
B         D                A      B
if you re missing i will run away
        B
i will find you
D              A B
i will find you
        B        D       A  B
i will find you

B    D    A   B

awesome song
enjoy
