Southside Johnny & The Asbury Jukes "All I needed was you"

A D E
Outside the church bells toll

For this wasteland we call home

A D E A
There s nowhere left to hide or run to

D-E

Daddy drank real hard late at night
A D E
He d say without love life s a long fight
A D E A
I promised I d win one fight for him, babe

D
The storm outside is raging
D A F#m-C#-F#m
I close my eyes, I think about you, babe
A F#m-C#-F#m
I think about you, girl
D
There s got to be something left worth saving
We ve wasted too much time

A D E
 I played the fool I played the soldier
A D E
 But my struggling days are over
A
 I wanted everything
D E A
 When all I needed was you, babe

I didn't understand I was just a young boy
All I wanted was the rich man's play toys
I didn't really care how I got there, baby

Now I ve seen a thousand dreams die
In the oil fields, in the coal mines
No need to wonder why
Nobody s satisfied lately

The storm outside is raging
I close my eyes I think about you, babe
I think about you, girl
There s got to be something left worth saving
We ve wasted too much time

And I played the fool I played the soldier
But my struggling days are over
I wanted everything
When all I needed was you, babe

All I needed was you, girl, yea
All I needed was you, babe
