A

A black and white photograph

C#m

of me up the garden path

wrapped up in my football scarf

C#m

it sits here in my hand

A

and there mother smothered me

C#m

and how she would mother me

she knew how to suffer me

C#m

like all mothers can

G

D

Now she is everywhere

Bm

Bb

the comb that runs through my hair

F

Dm

my posture on a chair

A

but that s not who I am

A C#m A C#m

He ran from the arguments

C#m

and sat on the garden fence

and lived in the passing tense

C#m

that fell from her lips

A

he tended the house so well

C#m

and each time she rang his bell

A

he d climb back from where he fell

C#m

and gathered his wits
