This is my own interpretation of the song.

Intro: Bass Line- x s 1
then - G D C D x s 3

G D
A skeleton in a suit and tie,
C D
tells us what we all should buy.
G D
A bag of coke and a nuclear heart,
C D
support your conscience, that s a start.
G D
If you win the game, some have to lose,
C D
the fun part is that you can t choose.
G D
You re born into a social class,
C D
you re stuck there, it is hard to pass

Refrain:

G C
Their social norms and social rules,
G C
We re social scum and they re social fools.
G C
They tell us all their social lies,
G C
ignoring all our social cries.

Pre-Chorus:

D
We ll lose the game before we start
C
They watch us dance as we fall apart

Chorus:

Well let s be ourselves, and never be social

We ll play their game, but never be social

G D C D - G D C D

Verse 2:

Ken and Barb in Greek fatigues,
tell us what we ought to be.

The cars to drive, and what to drink,
ignorant bliss, no need to think.

As Barb cakes fetus on her face,
Ken sucks blood at his workplace.

They take from you, they take from me,
societies anomalies.

Refrain:

Their social norms, and social rules,
We re social scum, they re social fools.

They tell us all their social lies,
ignoring all our social cries.

Pre-Chorus:

We ll lose the game before we start
They watch us dance as we fall apart

Chorus:

Well let s be ourselves, and never be social
We ll play their game, but never be social.

Woah woooooaaahhh!!!

Refrain:

G C
 Their social norms, and social rules,
G C
 We re social scum and they re social fools.
G C
 They tell us all our social lies,
G C
 ignoring all our social tries.

Pre-Chorus:

D
 We ll lose the game before we start
C
 They watch us dance, we fall apart

Chorus:

G C
 Well let s be ourselves, and never be social
G C
 We ll play their game, but never be social,
 Woah woah woaaaaahhhhhhhhhhhhhhhhhhhhh.....
