I've been looking out the window

Your smoked cigarette is your slow suicide

And you only speak to pass the time

But time's been passing you

The days feel like they're getting shorter

The nights are definitely getting colder

I don't know what you're going to do

Waking up to find

Waking up to find you don't love life

Mary-anne youâ€™re late

Iâ€™ve been waiting for you for three days

Iâ€™m beginning to be afraid

Iâ€™ve been looking out the window

A Bm
And I donâ€™t know how this happened

D
I remember laughing

At the zombies who had no fun

Now youâ€™ve turned into one

A Bm
I donâ€™t know if it matters

That weâ€™re hanging from the rafters

Mary-anne youâ€™re late

Iâ€™ve been waiting for you for three days

Iâ€™m beginning to be afraid

Iâ€™ve been looking out the window

I asked you â€œwhat do you think youâ€™ll find?â€•

You said â€œnothingâ€• but you didnâ€™t mind â€œItâ€™s all just smoke and mirrorsâ€•

I asked you â€œwhere do you think youâ€™ll go?â€•

You said â€œNowhere but at least I know

Iâ€™m having trouble holding back the years.â€•
