

Unbroken

Stan Walker

This song is pretty easy, just the same four chords throughout the whole song, even the

I think this is the easiest way to play it - for people like me whose guitar skills are basic - let me know what you think.

Am

I don't know what this is

F

But I can tell it's something that I can't miss

It's like your showing me where happiness lives

Dm

And all I have the strength to do is turn to you

With every empty space

F

I'm missing pieces only you can replace

I'm like a package saying please don't break

Dm

The contents are fragile, so I'm glad you're here to stay

F

I can promise you that this heart

Was brighter than a falling star

Dm

And all the money that I could take

Am

Now there's nothing more I can break

F

You picked up my pieces and put me together

There's no way you'd ever know

Dm

That my heart was breaking

Am

Cause you came and threw me a line

F

I was falling apart but now I'm falling forever

For someone who won't let go

Dm

And my love's a token, because of you I'm unbroken

Now every piece of my heart is falling back into place

Time stops

When I m with you I count the seconds I got Cause every minute I was something I m not
You give them back to me
It s like history, don t mean a thing
When I try to run away I can t hide
I m in the dark and all I see is your light
And your shining brighter than anything I ve ever seen

And I can promise you this heart
Will be a falling star
Cause you know what it means

You picked up my pieces and put me together
There s no way you d ever know
That my heart was breaking
Cause you came and threw me a line
I was falling apart but now I m falling forever
For someone who wont let go
My love s a token
Because of you I m unbroken
Now every piece of my heart is falling back into place

I just woke up from a dream when I was in one piece

No fragment of me had ever seen these streets

Dm

Love held me together and it never let me go

I just woke up from a dream when I was in one piece
No fragment of me had ever seen these streets
Love held me together and it never let me go
There s nothing left for me to break

You picked up my pieces and put me together
There s no way you d ever know
That my heart was breaking
Cause you came and threw me a line
I was falling apart but now I m falling forever
For someone who wont let go
My love s a token
Because of you I m unbroken
Now every piece of my heart is falling back into place
