Riding along on the words of a song in my head
E
Thinking all day of the thoughts in my mind never said
D E D E
I have needed a friend, over and over again
D
Everyone sings of a God they have known
E
Now I have a God of my own

E A E A
And it s better now, been a long, long time
E A E A
And it s better now that the words can rhyme

E A E A E
Gotta have something to sing about, everyone must have a song
E A E A E
Now I got something to sing about, everyone s singing my song
E A E A E
Gotta have something to sing about, everyone must have a song
E A E A E
Now I got something to sing about, everyone s singing my song

E E E E

Dreaming away, never wishing to be anyone
Never a question or reason to find right or wrong
When I looked at the end, over and over again
Riding along on the words of a song
Thinking my time had all gone

And it s better now, been a long, long time
And it s better now that the words can rhyme

Gotta have something to sing about, everyone must have a song
Now I got something to sing about, everyone s singing my song
Gotta have something to sing about, everyone must have a song
Now I got something to sing about, everyone s singing my song
