(Rossi/Young/Parfitt/Coghlan/Lancaster)

G

Spent a long long evening in a low down honky-tonk bar

Pulled a low down lady with a long black honky-tonk car

C

I asked no questions, got no lies,

Bb

G

I walked off with her, I didn't want any ties

Bb

G

And I knew it wasn't right

But everybody has to sometimes break the rules.

G

Took me down on the highway doing too many miles an hour

By that way she motor-talked we might have made the Eiffel Tower.

She stopped her motor by her own front door,

Bb

G

I knew she'd done it so many times before

Bb

G

And I was offered the floor.

But everybody has to sometimes break the rules.

second solo: piano
third solo: harmonica

G
I woke up next morning feeling kind of up and down

Cos I did not know if I was in or out of town

C
Then I saw the face from the night before

Bb G
Purse was empty and lying there on the floor

Bb G
But like I told you before

D F D C Bb G
That everybody has to sometimes break the rules

G C G
Spent a low down evening sitting high on a honky-tonk stool.

C G
And I spent my money like a low down honky-tonk fool.
