Glass Houses - Steel Magnolia

I don't know if all the words are exactly correct, but I believe the chords are right.

The intro/rift is played like this with some strumming in between the picked notes.

Intro: C

```
E |-----|
B |-----|
G |-----|
D |-----0h2-----2h3-----2--0-----|
A |-3-----3-----|
E |-----|
```

C

There's a killer, there's a killer

There's a killer coming down

F

It sounds just like a whisper

C

From the corner of her pretty mouth

You can't run like this forever

Am

Your engine will break down

C

Besides that snowy river

C

That leads into the ground

C

You're building glass houses on the sand

Then you stand around and shake your head

G

When they all fall down

F

Some damage here, some damage there

C

Am

Something's lost, but nothing's found

C

You just build yourself another

C

A little further down

C

There s a murder, there s a murder

There s a murder going down

F

It happens all round you

C

But no one makes a sound

Cause you re the one who s dying

Am

Behind a mask so proud

C

Beside that snowy river

C

That knows your nose and mouth

C

You re building glass houses on the sand

Then you stand around and shake your head

G

When they all fall down

F

Some damage here, some damage there

C

Am

Somethings lost, but nothing s found

C

You just build yourself another

C

A little further down

C

You just build yourself another one

C

A little further..... down
