

You Will Burn
Steeleye Span

you will burn

D A
One night as you lay on your goose-feather bed

G A
We will be kneeling by your bedside

D A
We ll pray for your soul like the good lord said

G A D
Let all be forgiven let none be denied

A
And one night as you lay on your goose-feather bed

G A
We will be standing at your bedside

D A
Your bones will be broken and your blood will be shed

G A D
Your eyes will be taken and your hands will be tied

G D A D
Then we ll take you to the forest where none will hear you cry

G D A
And we ll cut down the sycamore and the broom

G D A D
And it s there we will forgive and it s there we ll watch you die

G D A
Like a dancing silhouette against the moon

D
And you will burn you will burn

A
We will purify your soul in the fire in the fire

D
And your spirit will live forever

It will rise it will rise

A
From the ashes and the embers in your eyes in your eyes

D
And your spirit will live forever

G D A D G A D
Praise the lord another soul is saved praise the lord praise the lord

D A
One night as you lay in your goose-feather bed

G A
We will be kneeling at your bedside

D A
We ll pray for your soul like the good lord said
