

In Front Of The World
Stephen Kellogg and The Sixers

It isn't perfect, but I think it's close for the most part.

Well it's hard to live in front of the world
There's only so much that you can pretend
Write down what it is you're thinking
Take each day as it comes
You never know what's hangin' round the bend
And as far from the world as we get
I can swear that the two of us will always be the same
And if you must choose
Try not to trade your fortune in for fame

Chorus

And you'll learn, learn, learn
You'll wait your turn, turn, turn
And you'll get sick on the way
By the things that people say
It'll break your heart against the wind
But you will just keep breathing in
Well if you're scared to live in front of the world
I got news for you, you should be then
Cause when your confidence gets low, and you got nowhere to go
Just remember how you felt about me and our friends

Chorus

D F#m
Watch the way you fall in love
D F#m
Cause if you re smart, you ll take it slow
D F#m
But don t ask me about it
D
Cause I don t know
F#m Bm D
I don t know, no, no

Chorus
