Like the eyes to the soul
From across the room

And the crowd fades away
And we stand alone
Just like nothings changed
After all these years
Well it s all the same
And you re not to blame
No you re not to blame

Well my heart still stops
When i stand before you
And my heart still breaks
When you take my hand
And my eyes still close
When someone speaks your name
And you understand ...
It s all the same

And the first sign of light
Well it lifted my heart
As if some kind of wings
Came and lifted me up
And so became your face your name
After all these years
It s all the same
And your not to blame

Well my heart still stops
When i stand before you
And my heart still breaks
When you take my hand
And my eyes still close
When someone speaks your name
And you understand....

Ooh yea
Ooh yea
Ooh yea
Ooh yea
Ooh yea

Well my heart still stops
When i stand before you
And my heart still breaks
When you take my hand
And my eyes still close
When someone speaks your name
And you understand

Ahh, well my heart still stops
When I stand before you
And my heart still breaks
And my heart still cries
and you understand ...

Ahh, well my heart still stops
Yes and my heart still breaks
It s all...the..same....
