

You Only Cross My Mind In Winter
Sting

Capo.: 3

C        G                    C
Always this winter child,
             Dm            G7                    C
December's sun sits low against the sky
Am    B                    Am
Cold light on frozen fields,
                             D        G
The cattle in their stable lowing.

C            G                    C
When two walked this winter road,
             Dm                    G7                    C
Ten thousand miles seemed nothing to us then,
Am    B                    Am
one walks with heavy tread
                             D                    G4    G
The space between their footsteps slowing

G                                A7
All day the snow did fall,
   Dm
What's left of the day is close drawn in,
             C                                A        A7
I speak your name as if you'd answer me,

F                                    C
But the silence of the snow is deafening
F                                    G
How well do I recall our arguments,
             C                                F
Our logic owed no debts or recompense,
             Dm                                G7
Philosophy and faith were ghosts that we would chase until
             C        D        D7    G
The gates of heaven were broken

C                                    G
But something makes me turn, I don't know,
             Cm                                G
To see another's footsteps there in the snow,
             F                                    Dm
I smile to myself and then I wonder why it is
             G                    G7        C
You only cross my mind in winter
