

Four Superbowls No Rings
Such Gold

This band is freaking amazing and I felt there needed to be at least some chords from them. I m not exactly sure how to actually play this song but this is what I came up with and it doesn t sound too bad. I m not putting in all the little extra stuff Ben does when he plays it either. Also this song has some weird chords, I suck at naming chords and thus have no idea if the chord names are right but this is what I got using a reverse chord finder on the internet. I m not an amazing guitar player or anything but feel free to ask me anything and I ll try to help!
