Verse 1 Chords:

```
C           F           G5           F
I came out from under her warm sheets
Dm           C           F           G
    Into the brisk late    October
C           F           G5           F
If only for one last hope
Dm           C           F           G
    I wanted my time with you    to be over

Verse 2: use verse 1 chords

Iâ€™m staring up into the sky
While all the raining is pouring down
Iâ€™m reaching out for your help
But evil beings hold me backwards

Chorus 1:

Dm                                C                                F                                C
 All shapes and shadows move in and out
                                  Dm            Am    G    F    C Dm
 And hover round my bed
                                  C                                F                                C
 Voices arrive and disappear,
                                  Dm            Am    G    F    C    Dm
 I want to talk to them
                                  C                                F                                C
 Darkness disintegrates Iâ€™m rising;
                                  Dm            Am    G    F    C    Em
 Iâ€™m rising toward a light
                                  Am                                F
 A light leading over hills and meadows

Interlude 1: C-F-G-F x2 (starting here and onwards, insert Riff 1 where appropriate)

Verse 3+4: Use Verse 1 chords
 Iâ€™ve risen up from the dead
 With the burning leaves of autumn
 If only for one last chance
 That all of whom have been defeated
 To put on my fatherâ€™s wool coat
 To smell my motherâ€™s fragrances and perfumes
 To find my young brothers and sisters
 To never leave or let them go

Chorus 2: Use chorus 1 chords
 Houses adorned so beautifully
 The Marin headlands song
 Lost verses well up my eyes and ears
 The lone mandolin strums
 On Tamalpais warm spring
 The many places we
 Lay down in sleepy hidden shadows

Interlude 2: Em-C-Dm-C-Am, then Em-C-Dm-C-Am

Bridge:

C                                Am
 I see you well and clear, deep in the moonlight dear
                                  C                                F
 Your radiant august eyes, they are the suns that rise
                                  C
 They are the light that blinds,
                                  F                                G, then -> C-F-G5-F x2
 They end these lost verses

Verse 5+6: Use Verse 1 chords
 I came up from under the ocean

Evaporated sea salt water
A mist above the skyline
I haunt the streets of San Francisco
Watch over loved ones and old friends
I see them through their living room windows
Shaken by fear and worries
I want them to know how I love them so

Chorus:

Foghorns would sound in waking
Is it my voice you hear?
Footsteps are moving across the floor
And you know I'm here
The afternoon carries up from the hills and you are well and near
To fall into the light I follow

Interlude 3: Em-C-Dm-C-Am

Final Bridge:

C		Am
I feel oh so near, when morning doves appear
C		F
And ghosts of April ring, echo the refrain
C		F	G
Soon finding a place, in these lost verses
C		G
They fill the foggy day, they hide the hills away
F		C
That steal our time, they are the picturesque night
F
The casting city lights
C		F	G , then C-F-G5-F x2
On the bay flowing into the ocean glowing

Outro Chords: Em-Am-F-C (repeat until fade out)
