The soldier came knocking upon the queen s door
C#sus9 G#sus4/B C#sus9 G#

He said: I am not fighting for you anymore

And the queen knew she d seen his face someplace before
C#sus2 G#sus4/B C#sus9 C#sus9
And slowly she let him inside

He said: I ve watched your palace up here on the hill
C#sus9 G#sus4/B C#sus9 G#

And I ve wondered who s the woman for whom we all kill

But I am leaving tomorrow, and you can do what you will
C#sus2 G#sus4/B C#sus9 C#sus9
Only first I am asking you why

Down the long narrow hall he was led

Into her room with her tapestries red

And she never once took the crown from her head

She asked him there to sit down

He said: I see you now and you are so very young
But I ve seen more battles lost than I have battles won
And I ve got this intuition says it s all for your fun
And now will you tell me why?

Well the young queen, she fixed him with an arrogant eye
She said: You won t understand, and you may as well not try
But her face was a child s, and he thought she would cry
But she closed herself up like a fan

And she said: I have swallowed a secret burning thread
It cuts me inside and often I ve bled
And he laid his hand then on the top of her head
C#sus9 G#sus4/B C#sus9 C#sus9
And he bowed her down to the ground

Tell me how hungry are you, how weak you must feel
 As you are living here alone and you are never revealed
 But I won t march again on your battlefield
 And he took her to the window to see

And the sun it was gold, though the sky it was grey
 And she wanted more than she ever could say
 But she knew how it frightened her and she turned away
 And would not look at his face again

He said: I want to live as an honest man
 To get all I deserve and to give all I can
 And to love a young woman whom I don t understand
 Your highness, your ways are very strange

But the crown, it had fallen, and she thought she would break
 And she stood there ashamed of the way her heart ached
 And she took him to the doorstep and she asked him to wait
 She would only be a moment inside

 Out in the distance her order was heard

 And the soldier was killed still waiting for her word

 And while the queen went on strangling in the solitude she preferred

 The battle continued on
