

Lifes An Elevator

T. Rex

There are two guitars in this, so grab your friend down below or whatever :D Not 100% sure this is absolutely correctly timed and all that, but to be frank; I care less. It s better than having nothing at all. And I m sure you ll be able to figure it if this doesn t help.

Complaints, corrections and compliments: *

Intro & Verse

Tablature for two guitars (G. I and G. II) with fret numbers and string indicators. Includes a bracketed section for a specific phrase.

The framed section above is played during the rest of the verses.

Chorus

Tablature for two guitars (G. I and G. II) for the chorus, including lyrics: 'Plays something I can t quite hear, so go for the same as guitar one or make something up as you go *'

Lyrics w/ chords

Gm/Gm10
Sat with a cat on your head alone at last
Gm/Gm10
You cry with a sigh resurrecting all your past

Eb
Life s an elevator
C
It goes up and down
Eb
Life s an elevator
C
Can t you dig the sound?

Gm/Gm10
Swift is the kill shadows fill the empty walls
Gm/Gm10
Wild is the word that engulfs the sacred halls

Eb
Life s an elevator
C
It goes up and down
Eb
Life s an elevator
C
Can t you dig the sound?

Gm/Gm10
Scenes from your past spread before the flaming dawn
Gm/Gm10
Have faith in the hearts of the world they re rocking on

Eb
Life s an elevator
C
It goes up and down
Eb
Life s an elevator
C
Can t you dig the sound?

There are some minor variations through-out the song,
but none you won t hear clearly.
Chorus is played two times last time around, and then it s the intro/verse-part twice and some harmonics.