

The Flood
Take That

C F
Standing, on the edge of forever

Am
At the start of whatever

Em
Shouting love at the world

C F
Back then, we were like cavemen

Am
But we met the moon and the stars

Em
Then we forgave them

Dm F
We will meet you where the lights are

Am Em
The defenders, of the faith we are

Dm
Where the thunder turns around

F Am
They ll run so hard we ll tear the ground away

Dm A
You know no one dies

Dm A
In these love drowned eyes

Dm A
Through our love drowned eyes

E4 E
We ll watch you sleep tonight

F C
Although no one understood

Am
We were holding back the flood

Em
Learning how to dance the rain

F C
We were holding back the flood

G
They said we d never dance again

C F
Bleeding, but none of us leaving

Am
Watch your mouth son

Em

Or you ll find yourself floating home

Dm F
Here we come now on a dark star

Am Em
Seeing demons, not what we are

Dm
Tiny minds and eager hands

F Am
Will try to strike but now will end today

Dm A
There s progress now

Dm A
Where there once was none

Dm A
Where there once was none

E4 E
Then everything came along

F C
Although no one understood

Am
We were holding back the flood

Em
Learning how to dance the rain

F C
There was more of them than us

G
Now they ll never dance again

F C
Although no one understood

Am
There was more of them than us

Em
Learning how to dance the rain

F C
We were holding back the flood

G
They said we d never dance again

Dm F
We will meet you where the lights are,

Am Em
The defenders, of the faith we are

Dm
Where the thunder turns around

F Am
They ll run so hard we ll tear the ground away

(F C Am Em)

(F C G)

F C
Although no one understood

Am
There was more of them than us

Learning how to dance the rain

F C
There was more of them than us

G

Now they ll never dance again

F

Now we ll never dance again
