E                      B                      A
I was wrong to keep you underneath my finger
E                      B                      A
I was wrong to try and change you like I did
E                      B                      A
Oh I was a fool, I was to blame
E                      B                      A
And I put myself to shame
E                      B                      A
Now you and your love can show me the way
(You gave me your heart and one last chance)
