LYRICS:

After I left you I just learned to adore you real good

There s no solution got to go with the progrem and the proccess of feeling true

I know that you know that I m carrying up the both of us

while leaning on your back confronting all we never had

we never had, we never had, we never had...

After I told you I needed some time to feel good

There s no confusion got to deal with the concept and the meaning of being true

I bet that you gave up on doing this for both of us
while leaning on your back confronting all we never had
we never had, we never had, we never had...

Hit me, Hit me, Hit me home run

Hit me, Hit me, Hit me home run

Hit me, Hit me, Hit me home run

Hit me, Hit me, Hit me home run

After you broke down, didn't know what will come out

Is this good!? common baby is this good!?

Cause there's no improvement got to go with the movement and the decision of being true

I guess that I'll help us by doing this for both of us
while leaning on your back confronting all we never had
we never had, we never had, we never had...

Hit me, Hit me, Hit me home run

Hit me, Hit me, Hit me home run

Hit me, Hit me, Hit me home run

Hit me, Hit me, Hit me home run

After I left you I just learned to adore you real good

There's no solution got to go with the program and the process of feeling true

I know that you know that I'm carrying the both of us
while leaning on your back confronting all we never had

I know that you know that I m carying the both of us
while leaning on your back confronting all we never had
I know that you know that I m carying the both of us
while leaning on your back confronting all we never had

Hit me, Hit me, Hit me home run

Hit me, Hit me, Hit me home run

Hit me, Hit me, Hit me home run

Hit me, Hit me, Hit me home run
