Basically D and G all the way to the bridge and then all over again. I strongly recommend the version sung by Ghost.

 D
You re top man on the scene
G D
You don t think life comes in between
 G D G D
But hey, she s just seventeen
G D
She feels that she s a worldly girl
G D
But man you ve been around the world
G D G D G
She is just some worried daddy s girl
 Em
Even though there s nothing I can say
 D G
To cheat you and nature any way

 D
Let her down easy
G D G
Her heart is on a dime
 D
Let her down easy
 G D G D G
And you ll grow up in time

 D
In her strawberry eyes
 G D
The way she sees you signifies
 G D G D
That she s susceptible to your velvet lies
G D
But if you must lay her down
 G D

May a butterscotch glow be her dressing gown

G D G

And please do not lead her on when you leave town

Em

Even though there s nothing I can say

D G

To cheat you and nature any way

D

Let her down easy

G D G

Her heart is on the line

D

Let her down easy

G D G

And you ll grow up in time

D

She s a woman now

G D

With a daughter to make her proud

G D G D

In her crayon world of paper clouds

G D

She still remembers you

G D

The first boy that she gave it to

G D G D G

And she laughs at how little then she knew

(Talk)

Her daughter s five and her grandfather adores her (of course)

D

Let her down easy

G D G

Her heart is on the line

D

Let her down easy

G D G D G D

And you ll grow up in time
