Acordesweb.com

Scarlet And Gold The 13th Floor Elevators

F# C# G# D#

This is the intro and main chord structure. The barre chords can get tiring, so you can a capo on the first fret and play as if \mathbf{F} , \mathbf{C} , \mathbf{G} , and \mathbf{D} , in normal open fingering.

Sometimes the D# is excluded.

At about 1 minute into the song, it changes to

C# G# D# / C G D with capo

At 1:43 that section ends with

C# D# G#

Between that and 2:05, there is noisy rhythm work that I can t really follow, but then goes back to the original chord structure \dots kinda. At this point you should be able to it out, or you shouldn t be playing this song.