When playing the Bm* try and avoid hitting the low E string until appropriate, otherwise it throws the progression.

First verse is the same as the others:

C G C G
I threw the first stone, I broke the door

C Em C G
And someone got stuck inside and fell to the floor

C G C G
And I drove for hours, landlocked and blank

C Em C G
Hills all around me with no one to thank

Now when I got back here and climbed up my tree
And nobody saw me, I watched them so carefully
Trapped like mosquitoes fucking blood from your arms
Crushed so serenely, without an alarm

Am C/G G
But you still want me back

Am Em
In the room when it was cold

C G G/F# Em7 D
And we were walking crooked

I count the copies, I kept receipts
I kept the blisters on the bottom of my feet
Well I m your assistant or maybe you re mine
But either way you see it, you won t make a dime

Because we don t want it easy, we don t like the plot
We don t take precaution when we know that we should
But if we both just admit it, that we both make mistakes
I think we can handle all the change and the headache

Am C G
But you still get me out

Am
When you kick me twice

Em C G G/F# Em7 D
And took the keys and put them in my hands

Rough guide for next part:

Bm* Cadd2
e----2-2---2-2-----0-0----|
B----3-3---3-3-----3-3----|
G----0-0---0-0-----0-0----|
D-----0h2-2--2-2----|
A--2-----2-----3-----3-----|
E--X-----X-----X-----X-----|

Bm* Cadd2 Bm Cadd2
There s always something now, waiting on

Bm* Em C
If you just go now, you can leave

Em C Dadd4
You can just go free

Fast part: Basically a hastened verse/chorus

G Am Em C G G/F# Em7 D

I fell asleep, accidentally so
And I didn t wake up til an hour ago
So I stood in the window, still half-asleep
With a stone in my hand, the criticisms I keep

I can t write conclusions that ever make sense
Cuz I can t end a story when I m still on the fence
So I threw the last stone and that set me free
So I wrote no conclusion and came down from my tree
