

Night Gone Wasted
The Band Perry

Note: Kimberly plays this with an half step down tuned guitar. Also she doesn't use barre chords, but I think it sounds better. If you want an easier version you can click on transpose, select -2 and put a capo on first fret, and the chords are easier.

E.G.

1/2step down -> 1st fret

E

You can find my face where the moon light lingers

A

Cause it's Friday night and it's as hot as ever

E

My heart is banging to the beat of the band

E

Me and my pals we got scars from the week

A

But now we're making our noise and we're moving our feet

E

As we do our best to let things get out of hand

A

It's a night gone wasted again,

B

E

I'm making up with my enemies and loving my best friends

A

Well well well, it's the best medication to make

C#m

E

A

It's a night gone wasted, oh yeah

E

All of our eyes they've got rings of fire

A

Cause we're burning time like there's no tomorrow

E

B

It's gonna take a while to blow off a week's worth of steam

E

Tell your sweet mama not to worry her pretty little head

A

Iâ€™ll have you home soon and then Iâ€™ll tuck you in bed

E

E

But until then letâ€™s do our best to get out of hand

Man oh man
